Danielle is committed to serving the Maine and Massachusetts communities through her work in the Family Law Group of Verrill, as well as through her volunteer and public service involvement. She is dedicated to providing attentive and personalized representation to clients, and she remains accessible and knowledgeable on current law.

Danielle has experience in a wide variety of family law matters, including prenuptial agreements, postnuptial agreements, divorce actions, paternity actions, modifications, post-judgment issues, and guardianships. She focuses her practice on resolving matters without the need for court intervention, and is compassionate about helping clients navigate that process, as well as the court process, if needed.

While in law school, Danielle served as a law clerk for the Massachusetts Probate and Family Court first in Middlesex County and then in Suffolk County. In her capacity as a law clerk, Danielle worked on a variety of complex family law, probate, and equity matters.

When she is not in the office, Danielle enjoys spending time with her family, including her dog and cat, exploring Maine's hiking trails, skiing, yoga, and cooking.
