

Paloma Bagby

Associate

pabgby@verrill-law.com

Paloma is dedicated to helping individuals and families create comprehensive estate plans that protect their legacies.

As a member of Verrill's Private Clients & Fiduciary Services Group, she assists clients with various matters, including estate planning, tax planning, the probate process, and trust and estate administration. Her background in taxation provides valuable insights into these areas, helping clients navigate complex legal and financial issues.

Paloma earned her J.D., LL.M. in Taxation, and Estate Planning Concentration from Boston University School of Law in May 2023. Boston University School of Law recognized her commitment to probate law with the Honorable Albert P. Pettoruto Memorial Award. Before joining Verrill, Paloma worked as a trusts, estates & tax associate for a boutique Boston firm, where she honed her skills in estate planning and administration.

Paloma's passion for estate planning stems from her commitment to helping families secure their futures. She believes that every individual deserves a tailored approach that reflects their unique needs and goals.

Outside of her professional life, Paloma enjoys volunteering for the Boston Ballet, playing tabletop games, and spending time with her husband and two cats.
